ROMEO Beckham is reportedly trying to patch up an alleged family rift over his new sister-in-law.

Heiress Nicola Peltz, 27, is said to have fallen out with the Beckhams after marrying their eldest son Brooklyn, 23, in April.

Mum Victoria, 48, was apparently peeved the bride did not wear a dress from her collection.

And Nicola is said to have been unhappy about Victoria reportedly stealing the limelight on her big day.

A source said Romeo, 20, had been on the phone to the newlyweds "to try to smooth the situation".

The insider said: "There is a lot of tension between the Peltzes and Beckhams. Brooklyn and Romeo have become much closer."
